IN FUTURE YEARS as we turn back the pages of the past, one person will always remain in our memories: a man whose wit, friendliness, and interest in students have made him a favorite. In appreciation for all that he has done, we, the Senior Class of nineteen forty-nine, dedicate this MESSENGER to

Foreword

We, the Forty Niners
Now leave old Durham High.
We end our three years' journey
With praises sung on high
For teachers, friends, and classmates
Who helped us on the way
In gaining strength and knowledge
To meet the dawning day.

The future now looks very bright
As this year disappears;
A new tomorrow is now in sight
With fresh hope, faith, and fears.
When future days remind us
Of happy times gone by,
We'll find within this album
Treasures of Durham High.

Board of Education

First row: L. S. Weaver, B. M. Watkins, J. H. Coman. Second row: F. L. Fuller, E. C. Dameron, H. S. Boyce, M. M. Fowler.

THOUGH we do not personally know the members of the Board of Education we feel their influence daily. It has been their desire to promote better student-teacher relationships, improve school life, and develop citizenship. Durham is fortunate in having such a civic-minded group willing to give their time, interest, and effort on behalf of its boys and girls.

English Department

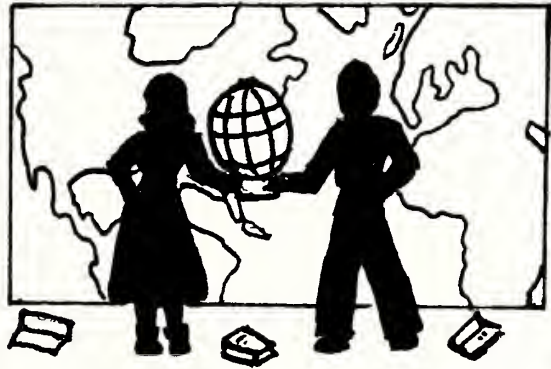

We were fortunate in having such an excellent teaching staff. From sophomore to senior each of us felt an increasing desire to become more familiar with our native tongue. Our knowledge of English is an indispensable part of our education. The teachers recognized our needs and prepared our minds accordingly. When Durham High closes its doors on this Senior Class, we believe it will have given us more interest, understanding, and knowledge in this subject.

Standing: Mrs. V. Cook, Mrs. M. Phillips, Mrs. J. Joyner. Seated: Mrs. A. Stalzer, Miss F. Briggs, Mrs. M. E. Hall, Miss B. Hampton.

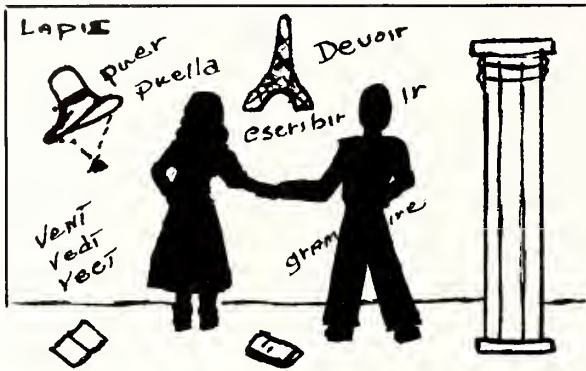

Social Science Department

We, the Forty-Niners, who have taken the social sciences, realize just how much these courses meant to us. We have come to understand that by learning significant facts in the field of history and allied subjects we can better understand the problems which will confront our generation. By the knowledge gained in these classes, we tried to work together to inspire a better feeling of comradeship and coöperation among all Durham High students.

Seated: Mrs. M. Heflin, Miss I. Page. Standing: Miss N. Drummond, Mr. R. Barrett.

Foreign Language Department

The foreign language students enjoyed their studies. Miss Faye Champion and Mr. Robert Barrett, the teachers of the romance languages, have given us new light and new interest in foreign countries.

Our Latin classes, taught by Miss Susie Michaels and Mrs. Loie Christie, have been informative and interesting. We were fortunate in having a curriculum containing three years of Latin.

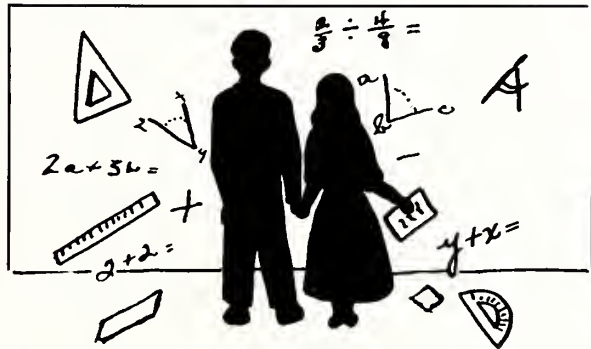

The students of Durham High School can be proud of its foreign language department and teachers.

Mathematics Department

Radicals, exponents, equations, and imaginaries return to our minds when math is mentioned. Math is a subject of love, hate, and requirements. Here at Durham High we learned to appreciate algebra and geometry. Our teachers were very good ones and we Forty-Niners feel that when the wide open world beckons us and Durham High bids us farewell, we will be qualified to meet mathematical demands. Our mathematics has been very useful to us, and we will be prepared, not frightened, by problems which will face us.

Seated: Mrs. N. Green, Mrs. M. Richardson. Standing: Mrs. C. Penny, Mr. J. Shields
Mrs. M. Miller.

Science Department

Durham High has always been a school with many scientific activities. Under the skillful direction of our instructors, a student was able to delve into the many mysteries of the sciences. It was interesting to notice the numerous experiments that the student performed in the course this year. Since most of these young scientists will pursue scientific careers, this assistance and experience was very valuable.

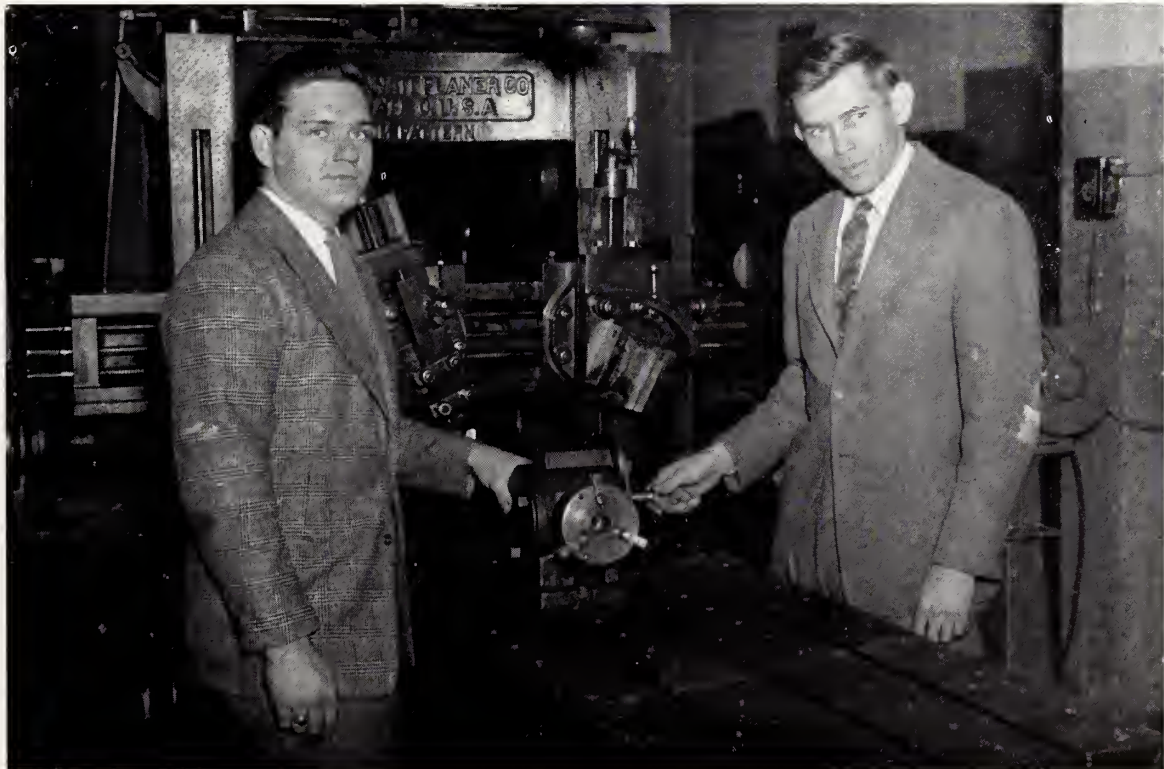

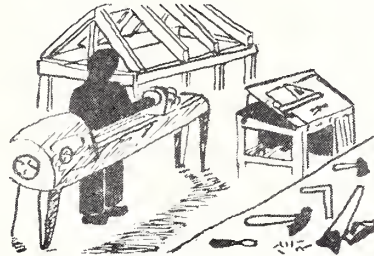

Each year classes in the elective sciences, physics and chemistry, are full. The teachers were proud to teach these energetic pupils who may some day be our scientists and inventors of the future.

Vocational and Industrial Arts Department

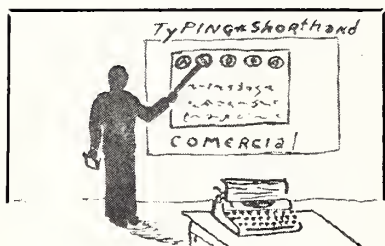

Any Forty-Niner who has had a class on the south side of the first floor is well aware of the machine shop below. The sounds emanating from this busy place prove that there are some very industrious students at work. The vocational arts courses include plan-reading, relative mathematics, relative science, and car and gear development. It is equivalent to two years apprenticeship in industry. We are sure that by taking these courses we will be very well prepared for the future.

Mr. W. C. Absolom

Mr. O. Palmer

Business Education Department

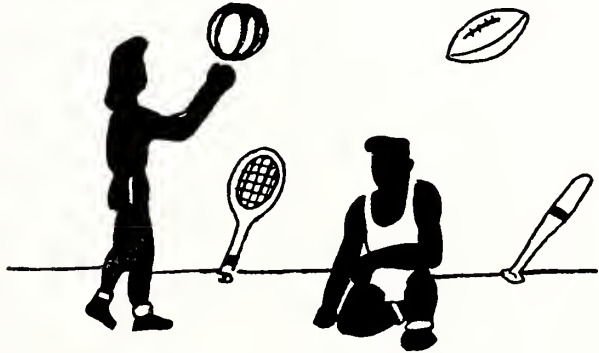

The purpose of the Business Education Department is to train—the purpose of the student is to learn for future service. Subjects taught included business law, office practice, typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and business arithmetic. This year the name was changed from Commercial to Business Education because lecture courses as well as skill courses were offered. Our very capable instructors are: Miss Cordle, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Randall, and Mr. Deeds. In the future the Forty-Niners are certain that this important department will continue its great work.

Standing: Mrs. M. Moore, Mrs. O. Randall. Seated: Miss R. Cordle, Mr. J. Deeds.

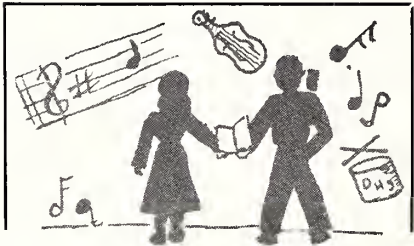

Physical Education Department

Durham High is fortunate in having such a well-rounded curriculum in athletics. In baseball, football, tennis, and calisthenics we received excellent instruction. Mr. Carey Brewbaker, Mr. Paul Sykes, Mr. Elmer Barbour, and Miss Nell Leitner have been well trained to give the boys and girls of this high school the requirements of good physical education. Throughout the year our "gym" classes fostered tournaments, games, and intramural activities. As Forty-Niners, our gym and athletic field, our gym suits and equipment will remain firm images in our recollections of Durham High.

Mr. C. Brewbaker, Miss N. Leitner, Mr. P. G. Sykes, Mr. E. Barbour.

Music Department

As our school has grown, so has our interest in music. Past years have found Durham High leading the lists of music organizations. Nineteen forty-nine found our chorus under the direction of a new leader, Mr. George S. Tracy. Mr. Lewis Enloe was welcomed back as band director. It has been a pleasure to work with these two talented people.

Art Department

Beyond the library, a turn to the right, up two flights of stairs, is the art room. Each year we have a larger enrollment in the art classes. It is here that Durham High's prospective artists learn commercial art, design, crafts, composition, art history, and delve into the many other phases of art. These classes, instructed by Miss Joyce Jones, painted posters, stage scenery, worked with library displays, and attempted to do all art work for the school.

We Forty-Niners may leave Durham High with paint-smeared hands, but we can say we have enjoyed our art classes.

Miss Joyce Jones

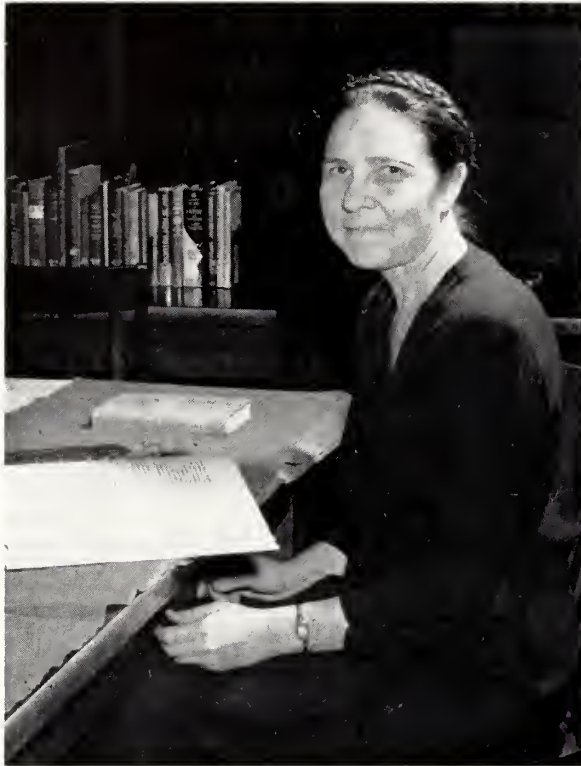

Bible Department

The Bible Classes, taught by Miss Erleen Gaskin, have come to be a most vital part of our high school curriculum. It is very satisfying to know that spiritual enlightenment is found in the school as well as the church.

It is also pleasing to note the enrollment of the Bible Classes increases each year. The students seek a greater knowledge of the Bible as well as a closer relationship with God. They realize knowledge of the Bible is an indispensable part of their education.

Miss Erleen Gaskin

Miss Emily Loftin

The Library

This year, as always, the library played an important part in the lives of the students of Durham High. We have seen evidence of this because the library was always full of students.

Under the direction of Miss Emily Loftin the library was kept clean and quiet. Its many books, both educational and entertaining, served their purpose well.

The library enjoyed a great honor this year. It played host to the North Carolina High School Library Association which met in the spring.

The library has been an essential part of our school. We are proud of its many books and able director.

Home Economics Department

A visit to the cottage revealed one of the most attractive departments in our school. The "home ec" classes, under the watchful eye of Miss Frances Woolworth, included instruction in child care, clothing, consumer education, food and nutrition, health, housing and home furnishings, and family relationships. This course was inclusive of the necessities of any home life.

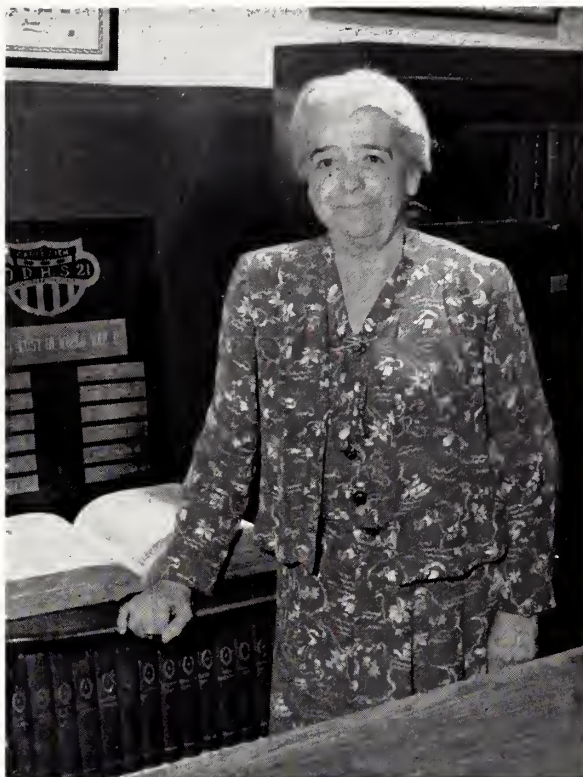

Miss Frances Woolworth

Coöp Department

The Coöperative Department has only one subhead and that is the Coöperative Class. For many years Durham has watched the graduation of hundreds of "Coöps," and has seen them occupy very favorable positions in the community.

There is to be found in this special class a vast spirit of brotherhood. The Club offers opportunities of education plus part-time employment. The Coöp Alumni Club is always active in aiding the members of the Coöp Class.

Miss Maude F. Rogers, the associate founder, and the present director, and "her boys" shall long be remembered by us the Forty-Niners.

Miss Maude Rogers

Mrs. Mildred S. Pickett

Distributive Education Department

The Forty-Niners were very glad to welcome the Department of Distributive Education. This department, which is present in schools throughout the country, is the first of its kind at Durham High School.

We were trained here in the arts of salesmanship and were taught the principles of retailing merchandise.

The club advisers, Mr. Neal Bedinger and Mrs. Mildred S. Pickett, have done splendid work in establishing this department in our school. We and the citizens of Durham certainly appreciate their efforts.

Mrs. Elsie Johnson

Inside Cafeteria

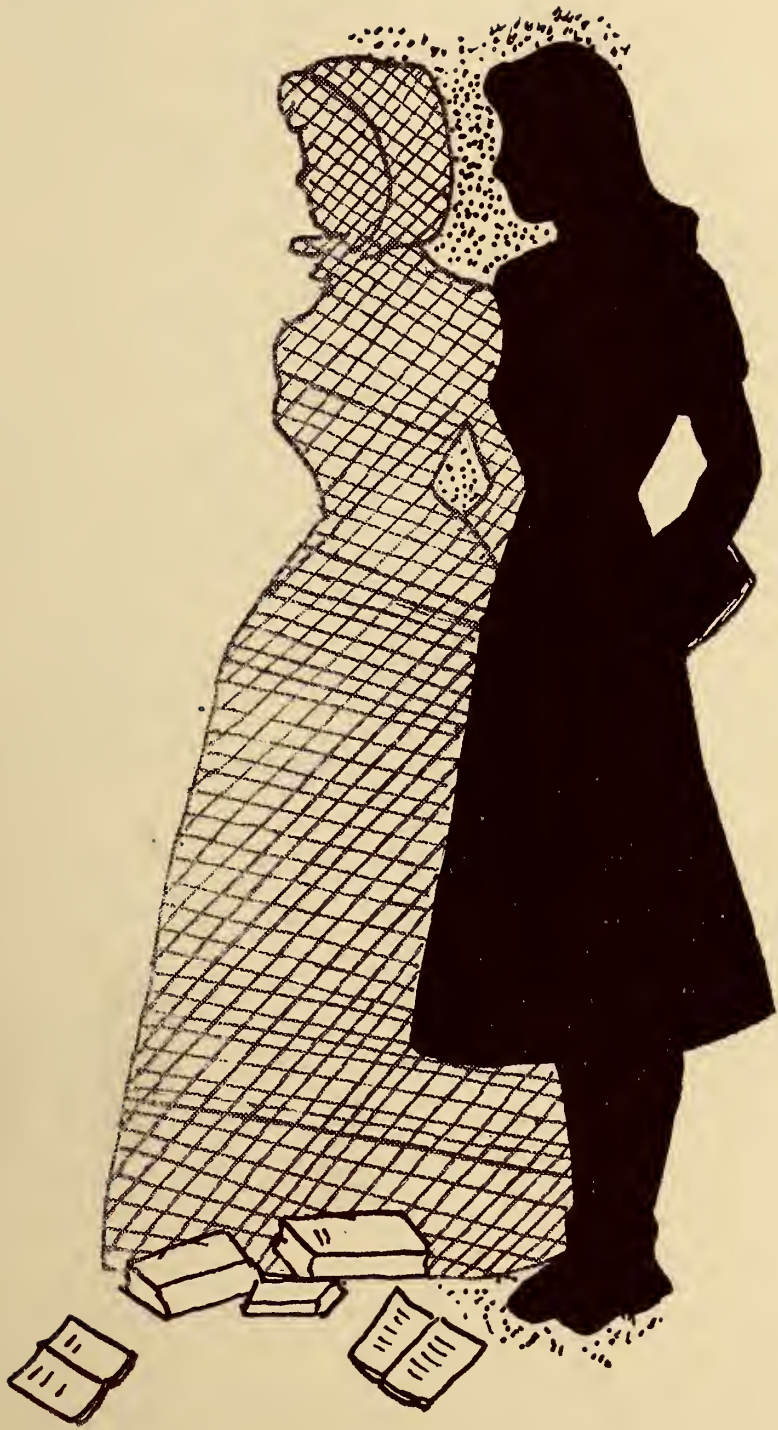

School is not all books. During the fourth periods we found books abandoned as the long line formed for the delicious lunches whose preparation was directed by Mrs. Elsie Johnson. She was new to our school this year and has been most helpful to all of us. The cafeteria was always overflowing with students and teachers enjoying the fine food and attractive surroundings.

Outside Cafeteria

Just outside our school building we find a small but efficient building which plays host to all those students who prefer sandwiches and cookies to salads and cakes. Each day this cold lunch line serves more than one half of our students. Mrs. Johnnie Wall has been the director and cashier this year. The Forty-Niners will always remember her genial personality and service.

Three years of books, classes, teachers, and students are fading into the memories of Durham High. As the class of 1949, we look back over our stay here with pride and gratitude. We have seen changes and progress in these years. We have had capable leaders in our officers—coöperation and school spirit in our classmates. 1949 will always remain an outstanding year for us. Now that Durham High is closing its doors we find ourselves with heavy hearts and thoughts of departure. We have new hopes that our future will be as bright as our past and our next years will be as profitable as those gone by.

The Forty-Niners

Senior Class Poem-1949

Life to Meet

Adult life, the unfamiliar
That we long, yet fear, to meet
Beckons us to come down
To the world's thronged street.
Half-reluctantly we leave
The old beloved places,
The haunts and habitats
Filled with familiar faces.
Into a strange, new world
We bear a burning flame;
Our hearts bright with courage
Ready to play life's game.
We seek vaulted manhood
In an age of fleeting time
When activated atoms
Threaten earth's pantomime.
Armed with spears of knowledge,
With strong and tireless will
We set out to master,
And all turmoil is still.
We pace the paths of life
With eagerness for truth
That makes us what we are:
All-conquering youth.

ANNE BOLICH, '49.

Class Song of '49

Words by JOAN BOLMEIER

Music by DANTE GERMINO, ROMANO DONNELLY

Trusting our future to God we stand
With courage that looks ahead,
Raising our hearts to the road of years
As onward our steps are led.
We cherish friendships that will linger on,
Memories through all the years;
Lifting our voices to Durham High
The school that we all hold dear.

Keeping our courage through peace or strife
Allegiance we pledge to you,
Promising ever to strive to live
With honor and purpose true.
We bid farewell to classmates here,
And leave to them our visions broad and clear;
Lifting our voices to Durham High
Our Alma Mater dear.

The image shows a handwritten musical score for the song. It consists of three systems of music, each with a treble and bass staff. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 4/4. The first system begins with a treble staff containing a triplet of eighth notes and a bass staff with a simple accompaniment. The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The third system features a triplet of eighth notes in the treble staff and a more complex bass line. The notation is clear and legible, with some handwritten annotations like '3' above the triplets.

Prophecy

It is the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-Nine. While sitting at the desk in our busy New York office, our eyes were drawn to the copy of the newest ladies' magazine, "Fancy, Fluffy Fashions." Featured on the cover was Peyton Clements, newest sensation of Whitfield's Modeling Agency. Investigating this eye-catching issue further, we learned that three more of our classmates were on the road to success. The staff included Anne Bolich—Editor-in-chief, Agnes Hamblen—Fashion Editor, and Pat Breed—Art Editor. We sadly remembered the best years of our lives, and decided to visit the old gang of Durham High School.

We hopped into our Uzzle Limousine chauffeured by Jack Martin and finally reached the airport, having been stopped only once by Patrolman Thomas Chappell. We bought tickets from Francis Stafford, who was still trying to get our money, and hurried to our waiting plane. On the field we saw Jim Holbrook, Don Helms, and Eddie King, famous photographers, taking pictures of the celebrities who had just arrived. Looking them over, we saw the Bolmeier twins, well known artists, Peggy Montsinger with her horse trophies, Willie Davis and Betty Oldham, opera stars, and Elton Dennis, new owner of the "Low-Light-Lovers" Drive-In Theatre. As we boarded the plane, we met Betty Ann Dixon, our lovely stewardess. We quickly fastened our safety belts when we learned that Al Warren and Norman Conant were our pilots.

Our first stop was Washington, D. C., the home of the president of the United States, Dante Germino. His number one advisor, Bob Barrett, informed us he was on an important mission in Moscow. With time to spare, we went on a shopping tour. Upon entering the most elaborate shop for women's apparel, "Gayla Gowns for the Gorgeous," we saw Ann Ferrell, modeling shoes "for the trim foot" by Dot Jones. Others we noticed were Betsy Thompson, displaying hats and Julia White modeling dresses. Sitting in a cozy corner of the room, we saw Aliee Lambeth and her millionaire husband. Upon leaving the shop, we met Helen Babb and Shirley Markee, foremost scientists of the day, with Frances Hauser, interior decorator. Looking around, we saw a Bobby Nichols' neon sign advertising the opening night of "Two Kicks from Jupiter," a revival of the popular melodrama "One Touch of Venus," starring Betty Faucette and Warren Bishop with Virginia deVyver as director. We stopped at the elaborate "Jimmy's Jive Joint" owned by Casanova Johnson and arrived just in time to catch Jean Clark in her last performance of "Real Gone Guy." A special feature that evening was Mona Boothe, celebrated tap-dancer. The last specialty was Leon Tucker's chorus line, led by Wanda Graham, flashy dancer. Included among those lovely girls were Barbara Robbitt, Margaret Francis, and Andra Hamilton.

The next morning we continued our trip toward the "Ole North State." On the way down Pennsylvania Avenue, we noticed a sign advertising "Wallace Draughn's All Girl Orchestra," featuring the twinkling pianos of Marjorie Tilson and Romana Donnelly. Other familiar names were Ruth Ledford, violinist and Marilyn Nash, soloist. Arriving in Durham, we walked down Main Street, and noticed the newest drug store was Lowndes and Peed. A sign, "Drive with Fornes" captured our attention. We discovered that two instructors of this well known driving school were Margaret Overby and Altaree Estes. We heard music and at once recognized Bill Harward, famed "rambling" cowboy and his singing guitar. At that moment Beverly Doby, wife of the president of N.J.U., named for the outstanding leader of the day, Nelson Jackson, invited us to attend a professional football game at the stadium. On the way we saw a billboard and immediately recognized the picture of Ann Miles, advertising lipstick's newest shade, "Hot Lips." We settled ourselves in choice seats and prepared to enjoy the game. Among the star pro's performing were some of our former flashing D.H.S. squad: Delona Lloyd, Van Weather- spoon, W. B. Pate, Bill Pleasants, Dickie Richardson, Bobby Poe, and Stewart Pope. Sitting on the bench was the team physician, Arthur London and water boy, Jackie Evans. After this thrilling game, we were invited to the home of their coach, "Big Bob Talley" and his charming wife, the former Ruth Wheeler. Among the distinguished guests at this party was Spanish ambassador, Etienne Mulet, who offered to take us to Durham High School. Arriving at our old "Alma Mater" we were welcomed by the principal, Wesley Harris. He summoned his faculty in to see us. Among them were Nancy Adecock—typ- ing teacher, Billy Cates—Spanish teacher, Jack Cowan—history teacher, and Jimmy Davis—Deau of Boys. Leaving Durham High we took a quick stroll uptown. We met Billie Adams, director of all the "Y" Team Clubs in North Carolina; and Pat Bostick, designer of fraternity pins. We hardly recognized

Bob Black, because he had been taking a "Lindburg Carver" course, and had devel- oped muscles to spare.

Looking at our watches we saw that our time had run out and it was time to return to our plane. When we arrived in New York, we immediately went to the "Cozy Cottle Hotel," owned and managed by J. B. We recognized a familiar voice, that of the head switch-board operator, Ruth McFarland. Reaching our rooms, we tried to rest, but did not succeed due to boisterous laughter and shouting. Peering down into the park below, we saw "School Marm Marthie" (known as Martha Jane Johnson) entertaining her nurs- ery school children with "Ring Around the Rosies." Unable to sleep, we went down to the lobby. A surprise waited us, for seated there were some of our former classmates, now famous celebrities. We greeted Albert Poe, a famed baseball player of the world, Shirley Morgan, lovely nationally known swimming and diving expert, Mary Rigsbee, playing in the Broadway hit, "Forever After," and Kay Johnson, author of a current best seller, "A Bush Grows in Lower Slobovia." We decided to dine together that evening and happily started on our way. While eating, who should join us but Nancy Green, famous ballet teacher and Anne Williams, demon- strator of "How to Knit Socks."

The next morning we returned to our office for another busy day. Pat Dula, sympathetic writer of a world-famous "Love-Lorn" col- umn, met us and wanted to hear all about the "Ole Home Town."

The foregoing is our prophecy—we, the Forty-Niners, have predicted.

Last Will and Testament

We, the students of '49, will to those who follow us courage, endurance, and perserverance with which to make this world a better place.

Junior Class

We Juniors were prepared for a big year when we returned to Durham High. We had completed a successful Sophomore year and we realized this approaching year would be the turning point in our high school career. This year we came to know Durham High from classes to classmates, from teachers to texts, from the ball field to the ballroom. We think we have completed a successful year with excellent leaders and coöperative followers. Our motto was before us: "Forward ever—Backward never." We strove to match these words: Past memories, future hopes—our Junior year.

Sophomore Class

Though we were new to Durham High, we Sophomores believe we have begun a successful high school career. We lost no time in learning our way around the school, meeting new classmates and participating in many activities.

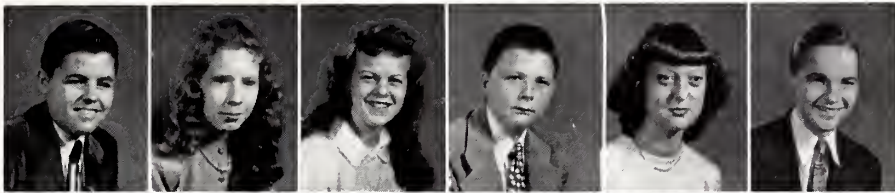

Very soon after our orientation program, we elected our officers, chose our green and white class colors, and selected the gardenia for our class flower. In December we presented our annual Sophomore Stunt Day. Our contributions to sports were many. It took us only a short while to join the many organizations and find ourselves a vital part of them.

We were grateful for the help extended us by the upper classmen. We hope our progress will be rapid and great. We, the class of 1952, will continue upward and onward, upholding the ideals of Durham High.

Coöperative Class

Standing: R. Spell, P. Ester.

As usual, the Coöps led in the sale of athletic tickets by selling a total of 334. One of the members, Bobby Talley, sold 105 tickets, and Bobby Poe, another member, sold 75.

The Coöp Class has had a number of participants in sports this year. Three members of the class played in two different Bowl games: Bobby Talley and Billy Hill in the Shrine Bowl, and Bobby Poe in the Optimist Bowl.

On October 27, a banquet was given at which one hundred and seventy persons were entertained at Harvey's Cafeteria. As usual, the Freshmen, who were being initiated, dressed as waitresses and served the guests. The main feature of the program was a style show. An interesting play was also presented.

The chief project of the spring semester was a never-to-be-forgotten trip to Washington, D. C.

The seniors of the class were entertained at a dinner by their adviser, Miss Maude Rogers, in June.

Distributive Education Club

OFFICERS—Seated: A. Lovette, C. Marshall, G. Stallings.
Standing: M. Hastings, E. Rose.

In September we welcomed a new organization to our school—the Distributive Education Club. The club was composed of thirty students, all of whom were working in downtown stores.

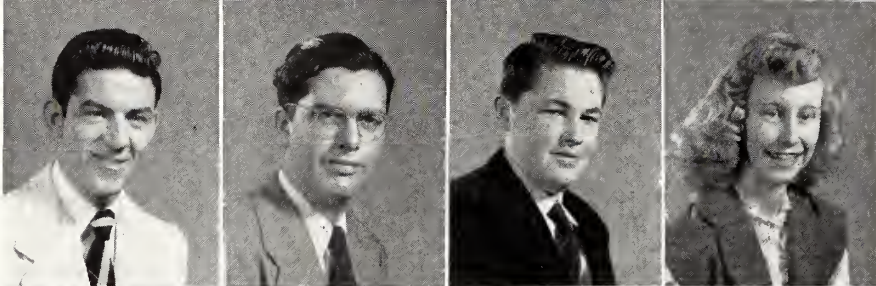

Mr. Neal Bedinger and Mrs. Mildred Pickett were the advisers. The purpose was to teach good, appropriate, and useful salesmanship.

We went to Wilmington in early fall to the Distributive Education Eastern Convention. Charlotte Marshall was elected President of the State Convention and Gladys Stallings, secretary. In the spring, we journeyed to Greensboro for a two-day State Convention, where we attended meetings, dances, banquets, and parties.

Student Body Officers

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS—Left to right: Pat Dowdy, Jimmy Johnson, Nelson Jackson, Frances Stafford.

The twenty-second of September began one of the most successful years of student government in our history. By the end of the second week of school our Student Council had completed a helpful and informative orientation program for the Sophomores. This year we formed the Inter-Club Council, made up of the presidents of the organizations. We were grateful to the students and teachers for their contributions to the Suggestion Box.

Our activities were numerous and interesting. We can't forget our Christmas Candy Cane Ball nor our Hospitality Day for the ninth graders of Durham. These activities could never have become something good and great had we not had excellent coöperation.

We, the Forty-Niners, believe our Student Council led us through a memorable year.

President..... Nelson Jackson
Vice-President..... Jimmy Johnson

Joint Publications

Left to right: Mrs. J. Joyner, Hi-Rocket Adviser; Miss J. Jones, MESSENGER Adviser; Mr. C. E. Cooke, MESSENGER Business Adviser; Mr. J. Deeds; Hi-Rocket Business Manager; Miss R. Cordle, MESSENGER and Hi-Rocket Typing Adviser.

Since the formation of the Hi-Rocket and MESSENGER organizations, Durham High School has been supplied with all the important news of the school and its activities.

During the past year the staff of the Hi-Rocket did its usual excellent work under the able direction of a new leader, Mrs. Jane Joyner. Under her leadership the Hi-Rocket held the prestige it obtained in past years.

The MESSENGER staff is another hard-working organization. Although this book is only published annually, it takes a year's work to complete a publication which contains so many remembrances of the years spent in this beloved institution. Each year the staff of the MESSENGER seems to improve the year-book. This past year individual Sophomore pictures were taken, a great improvement over the group pictures taken in previous years. The MESSENGER staff was advised this year by Miss Joyce Jones.

EDITORS—First row: R. Wheeler, M. J. Johnson, D. Helms, P. Breed. Standing: R. Donnelly, P. Parker.

Just as the pioneers of 1849, we began our trek across adventurous trails when the call to duty came. We attempted to portray the life of Durham High School in comparison with that of a century ago.

The efforts of producing our annual have been equally shared by each member of the staff under the able direction of our adviser, Miss Joyce Jones. We learned to work as a team with a deadline to conquer. Yesterday, the MESSENGER was ours—today, it is yours. As we face the future, the Forty-Niners hope that this year-book will always serve as a treasured link to our days in Durham High.

For almost two weeks before the opening of school in September, the Hi-Rocket staff was working faithfully to bring out the first edition of the school paper. The late opening of school handicapped us and it was the first days of October before that "September" edition appeared in the halls of D. H. S.

Due to the very high costs of production, the Hi-Rocket appeared only once a month. This was a great incentive to the staff to put their best into their monthly production.

The Hi-Rocket was very anxious to foster the reappearance of the journalism class at D. H. S. Since there has been no journalism class in the high school this year, Mrs. Joyner, our adviser, had to catch us on the run. Hi-Rocket people who have had the journalism course feel that it is a necessity in the life of the school. It affords the time and opportunity for serious consideration of the problems of publishing a school paper.

The members of the Hi-Rocket staff tried to maintain the honored traditions of our school paper. In so doing, it is hoped that the student body of Durham High School has been served as a newspaper should serve its public.

September, 1948, found Durham High with a new Student Council, new clubs, new leaders. An initial move of the Council was to establish the organization entitled the Inter-Club Council. It was in this group that we met with other club presidents and set up club standards for the school. We learned parliamentary procedure and discussed individual club problems. This group served as a link between clubs and Student Council. The student body vice-president, Jimmy Johnson, was leader and Mrs. Catherine Penny was adviser.

O. Henry Literary Society

Another year has passed in the O. Henry Literary Society—a year full of fun, educational programs, and energetic activities. We O. Henry girls strove to promote individual program participation to establish a love for literary arts. Each member organized and presented a program on varied subjects. Several social functions, including the Christmas party, were held.

The purpose of the Blackwell Literary Society was to set high standards in school citizenship and present educational programs.

The aim of the society was well carried out through the debates, guest speakers, book reviews, and movies. This year a contest was held in which members competed in introduction of new members to the society.

Throughout the entire year the society worked with spirit and coöperation with its capable adviser, Miss Inez Page.

Athena Literary Society

We in the Athena Literary Society certainly have a broader knowledge of famous literary masterpieces from having taken part in Athena work. Whether the program was humorous or serious, we were always aware of the atmosphere conducive to culture, which was sustained throughout both semesters.

The fellowship that we girls shared with each other will always stand out in our memories.

As customary for Athenians, we completed another successful year with coöperation from everyone. Each of us now has a much better appreciation of good literature which we know will benefit us the rest of our lives.

“To further the practice of parliamentary procedure, to develop the art of public speaking, and to provide educational entertainment” was the purpose of the Carr Literary Society this year. By striving toward this aim we feel that we have accomplished a great deal.

Under the leadership of our adviser, Mr. J. D. Shields, we carried out a very interesting schedule of programs this year. Included were three thought-provoking debates, several short speeches by our members, and a quiz program which proved very enjoyable.

The Walter Hines Page Literary Society concluded another active year with Mr. Neal Beddinger and Mr. Cecil Cooke as advisers. The boys were outstanding in leadership as well as character.

The programs for the year depended largely on the integrity and work of our members. Public speaking, parliamentary procedure, debates, and reports covered most of the program topics. For one program we were fortunate in having a guest speaker, and at another interesting movies were shown.

We planned a social and the annual banquet. Those who were guests can certainly say that no banquet could have been better. Another tradition of this society was the presentation of the Page Cup, awarded to the Senior member who was of the most service to the society.

We are sure that Page members go out into the world as useful citizens never forgetting their years in our society.

As we leave Durham High our thoughts return to the fun we had in the literary societies. Among these there is the Cornelia Spencer Literary Society.

The program this year included talent shows given by the three classes and programs pertaining to the purpose and organization of the club. Contributions to the Empty Stocking Fund highlighted the charities program for the year. Fellowship among the members was promoted by a sweetheart ball given by the society in late winter. Many of our programs centered around music, art, and literature, and proved to be both educational and entertaining to the Spencer girls.

The year was climaxed by a spring banquet held at Harvcy's Cafeteria. This social, a tradition of the society, proved to be very successful. Through the guidance of our adviser, Mrs. Alice Stalzer, the society upheld its ideals and continued to be one of the foremost organizations of the school.

As we, the Forty-Niners, leave we hope the Durham High girls will continue receiving the contributions to school life by this society.

OFFICERS—A. Long, J. Lloyd, S. Peed, B. Holt, B. Harward.

The purpose of our club was to promote knowledge of the fine arts through the medium of literature and to promote school spirit and friendship.

We have had varied and interesting types of programs this year, among them an initiation of new members, a classical band, and speakers.

In the spring we held our banquet for members and their guests.

Our organization has done splendid work this year under our adviser, Mr. Glenn Bunting.

Southgate Literary Society

The best gifts come in small packages. We certainly feel that this quotation is true, for though we are a small group, we believe our work has made us large. We tackled a big job of becoming more familiar with great literature and accomplished it very well. We can thank this club for teaching us to be at ease when speaking before a group of people and for helping us to have better speaking voices. We developed the literary talent in our own club which will help us considerably in later life.

We thank Miss Belle Hampton for guiding us in such an entertaining and successful program in 1948-1949.

Mimics Dramatics Club

In our three years' stay at Durham High we have watched many organizations grow. One of the foremost was the Mimics Dramatics Club. This group strove to write, produce, and learn dramatics through actual experience in play production. This year we had several original skits. Phillip Bevington wrote "The Erring Detective" and "Antics in a Court Room." A few of our members experimented with original musicals and comedies.

As we Forty-Niners depart, we say thanks to our adviser, Mrs. Natalie Green, for her patience and guidance in this organization.

Mummers Dramatics Club

OFFICERS—B. Faucette, A. Bolich, M. J. Johnson, B. Harward, K. Massey.

Those of us who have been members of the Mummers Dramatics Club throughout our high school career can recall three years of well planned activities both in socials and programs. This year our new adviser, Miss Frances Briggs, gave us a great deal of help and proved to be an inspiration to the entire club.

Our members made up a large part of the cast in "What a Life" which was given this winter and sponsored by the dramatics clubs.

In the spring we presented a mystery-comedy.

The programs included the majority of the members in the club at one time or another.

The energetic spirit of our club will increase as the years go on, and it will continue to be a leading club in the school.

OFFICERS—Seated: M. Nash, C. Bessler, M. Boothe, C. Ives, W. Graham. Standing: A. Ewing.

The year 1948-1949 has seen many improvements in the Playmakers Dramatics Club. A new method of program presentation by individual classes was introduced. Participation in club activities by each and every member was encouraged.

All was not business, however, for in the fall we held a square dance, while in the spring we concentrated upon our annual production.

Again we boasted one of the largest club memberships in the school. Our thanks to our advisers Mrs. Mary Hall and Mrs. Violet Cook for their understanding and direction.

Fortunate indeed were those Forty-Niners who were members of the Mixed Chorus. Matching and even surpassing past records we have enjoyed a most successful year. Through the years Durham High has held an excellent rating in music organizations.

This year we attempted to share our pleasure in music as much as possible. In December we presented a Christmas program. It was in this month that we participated in the city-wide concert. Our spring months were spent in preparation for our concert.

This year we welcomed a new director, Mr. George S. Tracy. We have enjoyed working with him. Our one hundred and fifty voices combined as one in thanks for his able leadership and a most enjoyable year.

The Brush and Palette Club

Nineteen hundred and forty-nine has certainly been an eventful year for the Brush and Palette Club. As we look back on it we find we have made many changes. In October we discarded our old name of Art Club for the Brush and Palette Club. Our programs have been varied and interesting and have included experiments with color, guest speakers, and movies.

Under the capable guidance of Miss Joyce Jones, our new art teacher, we have accomplished many things. We hope that the future students will continue to benefit from the contributions of the Brush and Palette Club.

Though we were small in numbers, we were large in spirit. It was our aim to familiarize ourselves with God's word and to promote interest in daily Bible study.

With our adviser, Miss Erleen Gaskin, we carried on a varied and interesting program during the year. Included in this program was the Christmas party, the visit to the Duke University Chapel to hear "The Messiah," several field trips, and the spring social. We took scrapbooks to children and sent packages overseas to the needy Europeans. Speakers talked with us about religious vocations.

We know that the Bible Club has contributed a great deal to us, the Forty-Niners. We feel sure that it will continue to grow in spirit and service.

As this year comes to a close, the Forty-Niners can remember many times when they heard: "Just a little to the right. That's fine; now hold it. Click." Or "Smile; one, two, three. Snap." Yes, we members of the Camera Club have taken many interesting and entertaining shots within the walls of our school.

The purpose of our club this year was to develop further knowledge of the field of photography. By profiting from our program for the year, we feel that we carried out this purpose.

The Sophomore Hi-Y under the guidance of Mr. S. A. Holt and its president, Clinton Rogers, has completed a successful year. The organization played a great part in the contribution of gifts to needy families at Christmas and helped in the toy project. The organization itself sent a basket of food to a needy family.

The programs of the club included religious programs as well as talent shows and other forms of entertainment. The Sophomore Hi-Y, along with the other Hi-Y's, contributed $12.50 toward the improvement of the club room.

In the spring a cabin party was held, and proved to be a very successful social.

The purpose of the organization, to create and maintain throughout the community high standards of Christian character, was carried out in the programs.

Durham High School is familiar with the Hi-Y organization. There are three groups in the organization in which the boys are separated according to their class in school. This division is necessary because so many boys are interested in the club. The aim of the entire organization is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community. We gave a basket of food each month to some needy family in Durham; every third Sunday we visited a different church. The Junior Hi-Y was one of the hosts at the older boys' conference; we helped collect toys for the Christmas Toy Drive and were a great factor in raising money for school benefits.

Socials in the form of hayrides and dances were held throughout the year. The adviser, Mr. S. A. Holt, was never prouder of the work done by a Hi-Y organization.

As in the past, the boys of the Senior Hi-Y carried out the high standards set by those who came before. Creating, maintaining, and extending Christian character throughout the school and community was first in our minds.

In our weekly meetings on Monday nights, unusual and interesting programs were presented. Mr. S. A. Holt, our adviser, did a fine job in directing us in our various activities. Each month our group attended a different church, and helped needy families by giving baskets.

The outstanding event of the year was the “Older Boys” conference, including boys from all over North Carolina which was held here, with our Senior Hi-Y acting as hosts.

We anxiously look forward to the future years, and we hope that our Senior Hi-Y will always meet vital needs of the school.

Future Business Leaders of America

If a successful club is composed of people with a knowledge of business problems, the Future Business Leaders of America met the requirement. Our members were all taking commercial courses and were interested in the business world.

The club was organized to give the girls of Durham High an opportunity to learn things about business and its opportunities. The programs this year featured several speakers who discussed the problems of the beginner in business and job opportunities in Durham.

Any member of the Phy-Chem Club will enthusiastically tell you that he belongs to an organization where fun and knowledge mix. The club is made up of all interested science students who show their willingness to learn by participating in this extra-curricular activity.

Each student reports on interesting current science news. Guest speakers enlivened the programs with their varied topics. These topics covered such subjects as sound, electricity, weather, radio, and chemistry, and aided in carrying out the purpose of the club. A "fun-for-all" social topped the year's activities.

As the years pass the Phy-Chem Club increases in popularity with students. Yes, we Forty-Niners are the future scientists and as we leave we will take pioneer positions in this vast world of interest.

Future Homemakers Club

We, the members of the Future Homemakers Club have done many worthwhile and useful things this year. Every month we sent a box to some needy family. Last year we adopted a Home Economics School in Germany. This year we continued helping this school; and, in addition, we corresponded with the girls. We also took care of a family from the Christmas Empty Stocking Club.

We enjoyed our dance the second semester. At the end of the school year we held our annual mother-daughter banquet, planned with our adviser, Miss Frances Woolworth.

We, the Forty-Niners, should all keep up with current events, for very soon we shall be making news ourselves. We find that answering to roll call with a bit of news, not only broke the monotony of roll call, but also made the members feel like learned men.

We could ask any past member and he would tell us that this club has taught him to keep up with the news of the world. It also improved his ability in speech making.

This is the first year that Mrs. Maude Hefin has been adviser of the club, but we feel sure that she will continue to help us foster our aims.

Girls' Monogram Club

We in the Girls' Monogram Club gained a total of 200 points, participated in four intramural tournament sports, and paid dues faithfully. These requirements were necessary to be permitted to take part in the club's activities, advised by Miss Nell Leitner. For 300 points earned in activities, we were entitled to an athletic star; for 400 points, a State letter; and for 800 points, a State pin.

Our main purpose was to promote better health, more interest in girls' sports, and good sportsmanship.

Boys' Monogram Club

Our organization was composed of boys who played as much as one-fourth of the games in at least one of the major sports. These major sports included football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, and golf. Our club, which was advised by Coach Paul Sykes, attempted to carry out two main purposes: to exercise good school spirit, and to promote good sportsmanship in Durham High. Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, has completed a most successful year at Durham High. From our programs we have gained new incentives to study this fascinating French language. Through the year emphasis was placed on French art, music, and literature. Most of our meetings were conducted in French. So enlightening were these meetings, we soon began correspondence with French boys and girls.

This year our club grew both in enrollment and knowledge. Mr. Robert Barrett helped us over the rough spots and served as a stimulus to each of us.

The familiar call of "Play Ball" thrilled us, and the first crack of the bat against the ball made our hearts beat a little faster. We were anxious to make our first runs, and we made many of them before the season was out. Looking back we can remember what a fine season we had in 1949 under the direction of

Mr. Glenn W. Bunting. We hope that Durham High Bulldogs will continue their fine work. The interest of each player in the team was largely responsible for the successful games. 1949 was a good season for us. We hope next year will be equally successful.

COACH: CAREY L. BREWBAKER

The 1948-1949 football season was one which will stand out in our memories of Durham High. We were off to a good start with the Raleigh game, and the successive games proved the Bulldogs were a threat to any opponent. Our team was one with spirit and coöperation. Mr. Carey Brewbaker and the coaching staff did an excellent job.

We won't forget Pope, Poe, McDonald, and others who will be leaving us this year. The entire team did a fine job and we, The Forty-Niners, are proud of them.

In January Durham sports enthusiasts turned their eyes to the Durham High cagemen. A right turn indeed for the Bulldogs returned to capture the record of 1948.

Nineteen hundred and forty-nine has been a year of basketball thrills and excitement. The team has shown spirit and determination. Under the leadership of Captain Roger Craig and Coach Paul Sykes, good sportsmanship and coöperation have been the by-words. The boys had a tough schedule and deserve much credit for their effort.

“... and the covered wagons roll right along...” and every spring our attention is turned to the Durham High track team, coached by Elmer Barbour and his assistant, Paul G. Sykes.

This year's track team brought many promising athletes into the spotlight. Each year brings new championships and words of praise for Durham High School, because of this outstanding sport.

Our team has made a good showing in all track events this past year, and we, the Forty-Niners, will be proud to say that, “Our track team could outrun any 1849 Indian in the West.”

Durham High's netmen once more gained the prestige afforded them in the field of athletics. The 1949 season was a busy one for these quick and able players. Jimmy Durham, Jerry Laws, Van Weatherspoon, Harold Wheeler, Raymond Beall, Bucky Gresham, Elliot Rose, Gray Rogers, and Wallace Adcock participated in the games and Mr. Paul Sykes ably coached them. We on the golf team may have walked our legs down to a nub this year, but we enjoyed doing it. That first familiar "fore" did something to us as we started off a season that measured up to our high expectations.

We were glad to have Leon Tucker, Dante Germino, and Marius Suitt back with us this year.

Our thanks to the new members of the team for their fine work and coöperation. Mr. Carey L. Brewbaker did another year of excellent coaching. The Bulldog linksmen closed the season with an excellent record. We hope the future golfers of Durham High will do as well.

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association have been examples of good sportsmanship and fair play to the other students of Durham High School. Since this was the foundation of our constitution, we tried to carry it out, not only while we were in school, but at home and at work as well. We hope that by our activities, we were able to promote interest in girl's sports and competition in activities. Miss Nell Leitner was our adviser.

To be a member of our club, a girl must have twenty-five points gained in athletics. Before these points may be accredited, she must have a doctor's certificate stating she is physically fit to participate in athletics.

OFFICERS—C. Bock, J. Holbrook, W. Draughton, D. Germino, E. King.

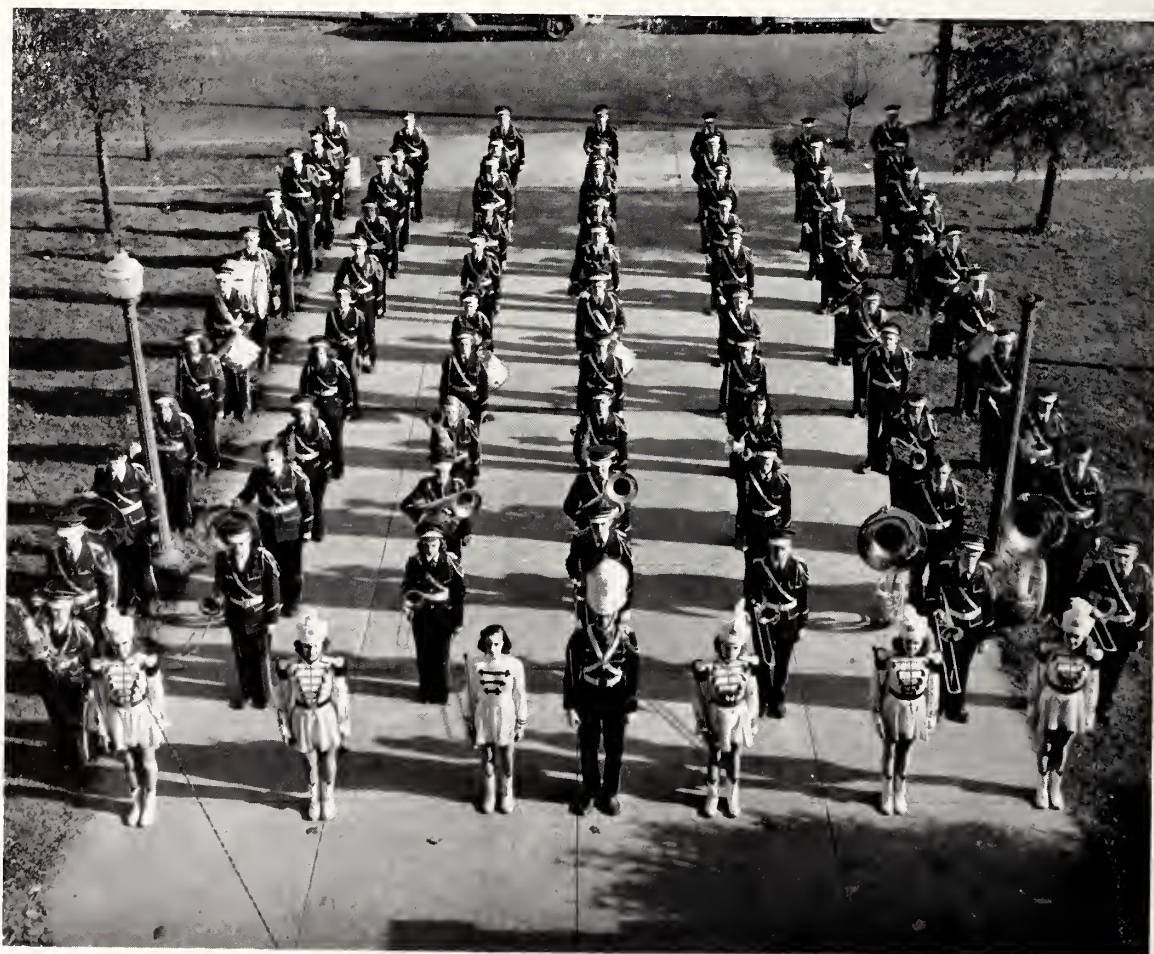

The flashing maroon ranks of the Durham High School Band again upheld their good reputation in 1949. The band has been prominent in city as well as state activities, and has made a great contribution to community life. It appeared at all the Durham High football games, giving support to the football team and providing music and entertainment for the fans. A Durham parade would hardly be complete without this colorful group which is led by the gaily attired, high-stepping majorettes. The band had a very busy season this year and, under the direction of Mr. Lewis Enloe, it has continued the good work exhibited in the past.

We have all 3 Types of Composition

WHEN setting type we give due consideration to the ultimate purpose . . . In deciding whether to use linotype, monotype or hand composition, we first ascertain the function of the particular piece of work. Each method was designed for a specific service, therefore initial cost is beside the question. We shall be glad to assist you in deciding which of the three will do the best job for your particular problem. Our composing room service is planned for today's demands.
